Outrage at 'sexist' Madeley interview

DICK FLOPS WITH LIONESSESS CHLOE

FULL STORY PAGE 5

By SUZIE SHELTON

RICHARD Madeley's big telly interview with Lionesses heroine Chloe Kelly turned into a big FLOP on the GMB sofa yesterday. Chloe – who famously ripped off her England footie shirt to celebrate her winning Euro goal against Germany at Wembley Stadium on Sunday – looked visibly BEMUSED when bumbling Madeley nicknamed her "Coco". And fans of the early morning show were quick to tear into Dick, who is often referred to as a real-life Alan Partridge by viewers and critics.

Swimmer fights off shark attack ...in Cornwall!

A SNORKELLER who was attacked and bitten by a shark off the coast of Cornwall has been left with a leg injury.

The female swimmer was on a snorkelling trip to see blue sharks in Penzance harbour.

She was bitten on Thursday in what is the first shark attack on a person in British waters since 1847.

The lady was rescued by the coastguard and treated by paramedics.

HM Coastguard has confirmed her injury was caused by a suspected shark bite.

A spokesperson said: "HM Coastguard sent Penzance Coastguard Rescue Team to meet a snorkeller who suffered a suspected shark bite."

"The coastguard was notified just before 12.30pm on Thursday. The swimmer suffered a leg injury."

Worldwide, there are four confirmed cases of fatal blue shark attacks on humans.

Greggs sees sales surge

BAKERY chain Greggs saw sales jump in the first half of the year as punters turned to value meals amid the cost-of-living squeeze, but warned its cost inflation could hit 9%.

Sales leapt by 27.1% in the 26 weeks to July 2 to a total of £694.5million, compared with £546.2m a year earlier.

But half-year profits remained largely flat year on year at £55.8m compared with £55.5m last year, due to the reintroduction of business rates, an increase in VAT and higher levels of cost inflation.

FRESH HELL FOR HOUSEHOLDS WITH NEW FORECAST... GAS BILLS WILL TOP £3,600

TYPICAL domestic energy bills are set to hit more than £3,600 a year from this winter.

Consultancy Cornwall Insight said the typical gas and electric bill in England, Wales and Scotland could reach £3,615 in the New Year – hundreds of pounds more than previous predictions.

The Government has announced a package of measures to help households with the rising cost of living.

However, some have called for more support for families. The average annual energy bill was £1,400 in October 2021 and the last energy price cap increase, in April this year, saw that rise to £2,000.

The price cap – the maximum amount suppliers can charge customers in England, Scotland and Wales – is expected to go up again in October.

Cornwall Insight said the typical domestic customer was likely to pay £3,358 annually from October, then £3,615-a-year from January.

Last month, Cornwall Insight said a typical bill would reach £3,244-a-year from October, and £3,363 annually from January.

Dr Craig Lowrey, principal consultant at Cornwall Insight, said rising wholesale gas prices and concerns over Russian supply were behind the big leap.

He said: "While the rise in forecasts for October and January is a pressing concern, it is not only the level but the duration of the rises that makes these new forecasts so devastating."

"Given the current level of the wholesale price, this level of household energy bills currently shows little sign of abating into 2024."

BA suspends sale of short haul flights

BRITISH Airways has suspended selling short-haul flights from Heathrow Airport for several days as the UK plunges further into travel chaos.

Customers will be unable to book onto domestic or European services flying from the west London airport until Monday 8 August.

Fares, however, are still available to book on short-haul BA flights flying into Heathrow.

The airline said the move came in response to Heathrow's request to limit new bookings.

In a statement BA said: "As a result of Heathrow's request to limit new bookings, we've decided to take responsible action and limit the available fares on some Heathrow services to help maximise rebooking options for existing customers, given the restrictions imposed on us and the ongoing challenges facing the aviation industry."

Heathrow announced last month that no more than 100,000 daily departing passengers are permitted until September 11.

BA earlier responded to Heathrow's cap on passenger numbers by announcing it would cancel 10,300 flights until October, with 1m passengers affected.

House prices still growing

THE housing market retained a surprising degree of momentum in July, despite the mounting pressures on household budgets, according to new figures.

Annual UK house price growth accelerated slightly in July to 11%, from 10.7% in June, said the Nationwide Building Society, which added that it expects the market to slow in the months ahead.

Prices were up by 0.1% month on month, marking the 12th monthly increase on this measure in a row.

The average house price in July was £271,209.

A spokesman added: "Demand continues to be supported by strong labour market conditions, where the unemployment rate remains near 50-year lows and with the number of job vacancies close to record highs."

KILLED IN LAIR: Ayman al-Zawahiri

Al-Qaeda boss shredded by spook 'ninja' missile

By BRAD CHADWICK in Kabul

THE boss of terror group Al-Qaeda was sliced to ribbons by a space-age missile armed with six razor-sharp SWORDS as he stood on a balcony at his hideout.

Ayman al-Zawahiri became the latest victim of the feared Hellfire Ninja R9X missile that uses pop-out blades, rather than explosives, to take down high profile targets.

Al-Zawahiri – a close pal and former deputy of former Al-Qaeda boss Osama bin Laden – was killed in a drone strike in the Shirkpur area of Afghanistan's capital Kabul on Saturday, according to US President Joe Biden.

The terrorist leader, 71, took the reins of the terror group when Osama bin Laden was killed by US special forces in Pakistan in 2011.

His assassination was the United States' most significant strike against Al-Qaeda since the killing of bin Laden.

A senior Biden administration official told reporters that a drone fired two Hellfire R9X missiles at the terrorist leader as he walked on to the balcony of his safe house lair.

YANK LEADER: President Biden

The R9X carries 45kg of reinforced metal in its tip with six extendable blades designed to shred the target upon impact without triggering a blast that could otherwise prove deadly to those nearby.

Al-Zawahiri was the brains behind multiple attacks over the last two decades that have killed thousands of Americans.

Speaking yesterday, the US President repeatedly invoked the September 11 terrorist attacks, which al-Zawahiri helped plan, and said the slaying of the world's top terrorist target demonstrated the resolve of the US to go after terrorist leaders, no matter how long it takes.

Biden laid out al-Zawahiri's role in the terror organisation, noting that, in addition to the 9/11 attacks, he was behind the bombing of the USS Cole in 2000 and the attacks on US embassies in Kenya and Tanzania in 1998.

Biden said the mission to kill al-Zawahiri took six months to plan.

BP LATEST PROFITS HIT £6.9BILLION

BP has become the latest energy giant to report MASSIVE profits for the three months to June after oil and gas prices soared.

The company saw underlying profits hit £6.9billion – more than triple its profit for the same time last year.

The figure is the second highest in the firm's history and takes its half-year profits to $14.6bn (£12bn).

BP's profits were higher than expected and follow record profits from rival Shell, and huge earnings from British Gas owner Centrica last week.

The huge increase in profits for firms has been fuelled by higher prices for oil and gas, which have risen sharply due to the war in Ukraine.

In recent months, Russia has reduced supplies to Europe following the invasion and fears are growing it may switch off the taps altogether.

The potential of gas supply problems has led to the wholesale price soaring, which has led to energy firms passing those costs onto customers – pushing up household bills by unprecedented amounts.

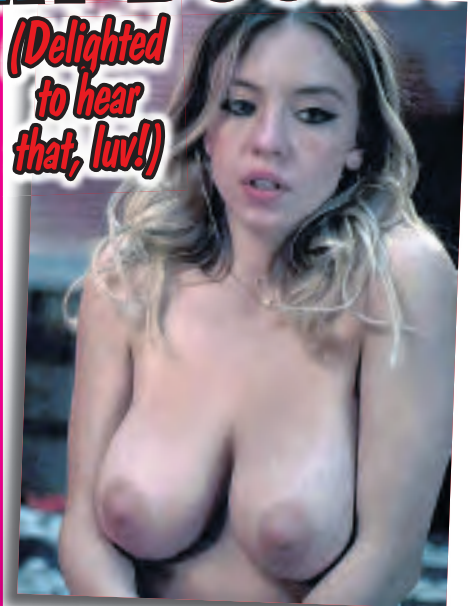

BP said following its bumper profit results it would boost shareholder payouts by 10% as well as buy back shares.

SYDNEY: WHY I WON'T STOP SHOWING MY BOOBS!

(Delighted to hear that, luv!)

By EMMA HILL news@sundaysport.co.uk

WE can all relax, because the woman with the finest pair of busters on screen has NO plans to stop stripping off!

Euphoria star Sydney Sweeney said that nude scenes have actually helped her "become very confident" with her body.

While fans of the show have praised Sydney's performance as high school student Cassie Howard, there has also been criticism from fellow cast mates about how its creator, Sam Levinson, has handled nude scenes in particular.

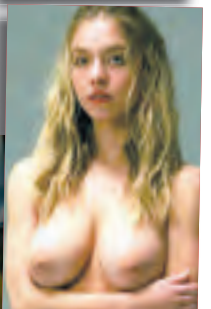

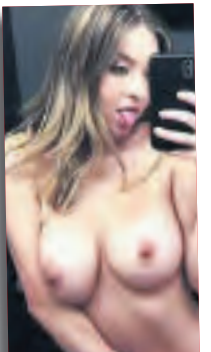

The 24-year-old added whenever she's working "it's as if it's someone else's life", which helps her to focus on the story at hand rather than the fact that she's naked in front of the cast and crew.

Symbol

She said: "People forget I'm playing a character. They think, 'Oh, she gets naked on screen, she's a sex symbol'."

"And I can't get past that. I have no problem with those scenes, and I won't stop doing them, but I wish there was an easier way to have an open conversation about what we're assuming about actors in the industry."

Sydney recently had two first-time Emmy nominations for her roles in HBO's White Lotus and Euphoria.

Amber: spicey sex scenes are a bit awkward

LOVE Island's Amber Gill has spilled the beans writing "awkward" sex scenes for her new Mills & Boon romantic novel Until I Met You.

In an interview with Radio 1's Newsbeat, she said that during her writing process she realised her mum would be reading the sex scenes and she tried to avoid being too explicit.

Amber, 24 (above), said: "When I was writing those scenes I was trying to avoid being sexy, but you can't avoid it. No-one wants a mellow book, we all need a little bit of spice!"

The reality telly star wrote it with American author Nadine Gonzalez and found having a co-writer useful for the erotic scenes.

She added: "We needed two sexy scenes minimum. It was a little awkward but I'm happy I had a co-writer."

"If we're talking Nando's spice level, it's like a medium."

THEY were – and remain – among the most famous boobs in Britain.

But now our nation's top glamour models have found a new passion... GARDENING!

The transformation was highlighted by Leilani Dowding in a tweet last week.

The 42-year-old told her 50,000 followers: "Who would have ever thought me and my best mate from our Page Three days Jakki Degg would be literally texting each other about plants, gardens and care tips in our 40s (laughing emojis). How life changes."

Leilani gives regular updates on her gardening adventures on social media.

But she and Jakki are not the only glamour babes who love to grab a dibber.

Because telly presenter and lads' mag fave Kelly Brook is one of Britain's top green-fingered celebs, too.

The busty stunna has even appeared on BBC Gardener's World, an on-screen essential for the nation's horticulture fans.

One glamour fan said: "I'd love this three to come and have a tug at my rampant weed!"

Jedward up for Big Brother return

BIG Brother, one of the original UK reality TV shows, will return to TV screens in 2023, years after being axed by both Channel 4 and later Channel 5.

The show, which launched the careers of ITV presenter Alison Hammond and Radio 1 DJ Adele Roberts, will be revived by ITV2 and new streaming platform ITVX.

Officials said the famous Big Brother house will return with a "contemporary new look".

The returning show – which was originally on for 18 years – will see a cast of "carefully selected housemates from all walks of life" live together under strict surveillance for up to six weeks.

Similar to previous editions, the public will regularly vote contestants off in live evictions, as well as deciding on an overall cash prize winner.

Irish singing duo Jedward (above), the identical twins who were on Celeb Big Brother twice, have made an early online bid to host the returning series.

Daily migrants number hits UK record for year

ALMOST 700 migrants crossed the Channel to the UK in a single day, a record for the year so far.

Some 696 made the journey in 14 boats on Monday, the Ministry of Defence said.

This is the highest number on a single day so far this year, and only the second time in 2022 that the daily figure has topped 600.

The previous highest number was 651 which was recorded on April 13.

The latest crossings saw large groups of people, including young children, brought ashore in Ramsgate before leaving the Kent port on double-decker buses.

The data suggests there was an average of around 50 on each boat that day.

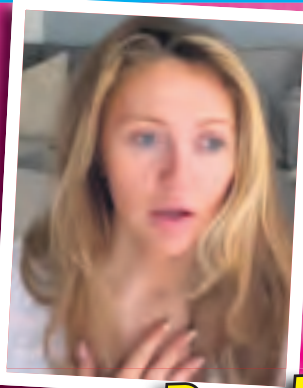

More than 17,000 people have arrived in the UK from France in 2022.

Viewers cringe at Madeley's interview with Lioness Chloe...

TV GOLD: Richard and Kate chat to footie star Chloe

Ex on Beach Charlotte's stalker hell

CELEB babe Charlotte Dawson broke down in tears as she revealed she has been stalked and viciously trolled by someone who anonymously reported her to social services with false claims.

Taking to Instagram, the Ex on the Beach star detailed the extent of her horrific ordeal in a heartbreaking video, and admitted she is now getting a private investigator and the police involved after suffering years of abuse from this one individual.

Speaking to camera, mum-of-one Charlotte, 29 – the daughter of late great comedian Les Dawson – said: "I've had this one person for a while now, probably like a year, maybe two years, constantly stalking me, sending me messages all the time, nasty messages every single day, about the way I look, what I'm doing, how I'm parenting, what me and my fiancé are doing.

"My mum gets messages, and I get messages about my dad's side of the family, nasty messages about everything that you could imagine.

"There's just no need and people know absolutely nothing about it.

Charlotte explained that the troll also constantly sets up new accounts with disturbing images as their profile pic.

The brunette beauty added that she is now contacting cops about the constant online abuse.

NOT SINGING ANY MORE: Chloe looks bemused by nickname

GOOD Morning Britain presenter Richard Madeley was branded "sexist" after an interview with England star Chloe Kelly, when he nicknamed her "Coco".

The Lioness, 24, spoke to Richard and Kate Garraway on GMB about her historic winning goal in the Euro final on Sunday, which was followed by her iconic Wembley celebration.

Chloe revealed she took her shirt off after the goal as a "male footballer would be doing exactly the same," adding that it is the "best yellow card" she's ever received.

However, at the end of the interview, she appeared stunned when Richard told her: "Chloe – or 'Coco' as I call my daughter Chloe – Coco, thank you very much indeed for coming in."

Baffled

Many viewers were left baffled, with one posting online: "Wonder if he'd infantilise one of the Lions in this manner?"

Another commented: "Chloe Kelly's face after Richard Madeley says, 'Chloe – or Coco as I call my daughter Chloe – Coco, thank you very much indeed for coming in'. I cannot imagine a young male player who'd just scored the winning goal for England in a final going on TV and being told, 'Colin – or Col-Col as I call my son Colin – Col-Col, thank you very much indeed for coming in'."

Meanwhile, a third called it "patronising", while another cringed: "Oh lordy!"

And another wrote:

"She had to bite back a retort. She should not have to. How to get brought down to Earth quicker than gravity – be forced to have an interview with this least intelligent of men."

Elsewhere in the TV interview, Chloe spoke about the moment she scored the winning goal in the match, saying: "Everything is a blur – you celebrate for what the moment is, not, 'Am I allowed to take my shirt off?'"

"I'm taking my shirt off, I'm going crazy because a male footballer... they would be doing exactly the same, so as a woman why can't we?"

"In that moment every England fan – or player – you're an England fan. It's the best yellow card I have ever received."

When asked by GMB co-host Kate if it is possible to feel the "bigness" of the moment, Chloe replied: "While we were in the tournament we tried to stay in our bubble, and we didn't really listen to the outside world."

Coke up fanny smuggle babe thanks lawyer

AN OnlyFans beauty was caught trying to smuggle cocaine into a concert up her FANNY.

Grace Athanatos, 24 (above), has thanked her legal team after she avoided a criminal conviction for trying to carry a condom filled with 5.6g of the illegal drug into a gig.

The student was caught by drug-detection dogs at a DJ MaRLo concert at Sydney Olympic Park, Australia, on May 14.

Police then found a knotted condom inside the Melbourne woman's vagina during a private room strip search.

She was charged with supplying drugs, which she claimed were for her pals at the gig.

While her Instagram is normally filled with glamorous outfit shots and photos of her dining out at high-end restaurants, Athanatos had a change of tone this week, when she thanked her legal team for her result in court.

She posted: "Huge shout out to my saviour @ahmeddob and his team for helping me today. Honestly such an amazing result."

Appearing at Burwood Local Court, Athanatos avoided a formal conviction and was given a 12-month conditional behaviour bond.

Paramedic axed over 'exhausting' sexual innuendo

A PARAMEDIC has been suspended after he asked a trainee he was mentoring if she used SEX TOYS.

Alexander Jones was in an ambulance alone with the student paramedic - who was on her first ever placement - when he quizzed her about using a wand vibrator.

During his pupil's placement with him in Glasgow, Jones asked if she "waxed or shaved" her genitals, if she liked anal sex, and if she "had much luck" on Tinder.

Jones, of the Scottish Ambulance Service, also told the trainee: "If you sleep with me it won't affect your grades," and was repeatedly caught staring at her breasts.

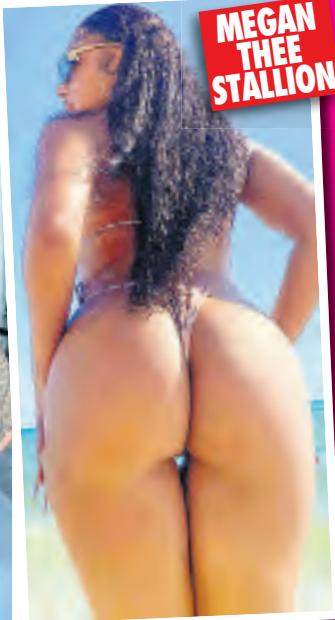

Jones was suspended for three months following a Health and Care Professions Tribunal, which also heard by the end of her week with him the unnamed student was "exhausted" by his sexual innuendos.

She asked for a new mentor as she "couldn't put up with his behaviour" for the three years that she was due to spend with Jones.

Top chemistry teacher in sex scandal is axed

A TOP-rated chemistry Miss has been sacked after being accused of fiddling with some of her pupils' pipettes.

The alleged sexual misconduct involving chemistry teacher Julie Oxborough-Yankus (above), took place "years ago," Head of School Alex Curtis and Jennifer Karlen Elliott, head of student and academic life, wrote in a letter to parents at Choate Rosemary Hall School in Wallingford, Connecticut.

The school hired an investigator who found the alleged sexual misconduct involved several students.

Oxborough-Yankus, who had been with the school since 1986, was sacked last week.

The boarding school received a report in spring of alleged sexual misconduct involving Oxborough-Yankus and a former student.

Upon learning of the report, the school put Oxborough-Yankus on administrative leave.

Two years ago she and her husband were celebrated in a local newspaper as one of the area's power couples.

It's believed Chavator Beckett was just on the vinegar stroke when he was blasted to death by an unknown assailant in Linstead, St Catherine, Jamaica.

Beckett, 33, died instantly while still coupled with the unnamed woman, who was also injured in the gun attack.

Both the Linstead police and the Constabulary Communications Unit – the information arm of the Jamaica Constabulary Force – confirmed the couple were "having adult relations" when the incident occurred.

They said a gunman walked up and opened fire on the couple and the victim received several gunshot wounds.

Police said they were rushed to hospital where Beckett was confirmed dead and the woman admitted for treatment.

As house goes on sale for £2.25million...

KRAY TWINS LAIR & THE DOGGING HOTSPOT

ON THE MARKET: The Krays bought The Brooks in 1967

ONLINE ADVICE: Swinging Heaven website

50 edition

Take a left at the clock tower (depending which way your coming from), follow the road down, round the bend and keep following the road down until you get to the second car park on the right next to the tennis court. Most action on Friday/Saturday nights after 10PM.

A MANSION once owned by the infamous Kray Twins has gone on the market with a price tag of £2.25million.

Notorious East End gangsters Ronnie and Reggie Kray bought The Brooks in Bildeston, near Hadleigh in Suffolk, for just £11,000 back in 1967.

The twin brothers fell in love with Suffolk after they had been evacuated to Hadleigh during World War II and they vowed to return one day and buy a house in the area.

The sizeable property is now on the market for the first time in 30 years.

Estate agents describe the 6.4-acre grounds as "tranquil" although the police once dug up its garden as they searched for bodies.

The crime bosses stayed regularly at the house, which is just off the high street in Bildeston, and they were there on the weekend before they and 15 members of their gang were arrested in May 1968.

Villagers recall how cops searched the house and dug up part of the garden as they looked for bodies in the following days.

But as well as being the former lair of the Krays, the house also hides

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

another, rather less gruesome secret. Because the village of Bildeston is listed online as a meeting place for kinky DOGGERS!

Dogging is a sexual practice that became popular in the Noughties and involves a group of men furiously masturbating while watching couples have sex in parked cars.

Spunk

Occasionally the spectators are invited to join in or to shower the lady participant in their sticky spunk, after which – according to videos documenting the practice – she usually holds open her meaty fanny lips and unleashes a powerful stream of ladywee onto the ground.

Bildeston's claim to dogging fame appears on the respected Swinging Heaven website.

The listing reads: "Take a left at the clock tower (depending which way you're coming from), follow the road down, round the bend and keep following the road down until you get to the second car park on the right next to the tennis court. Most action on Friday/Saturday nights after 10pm."

Fireman started wildfires 'for kicks'

A FRENCH fireman has been arrested on suspicion of being a serial fire starter in a twisted bid for an adrenalin fix.

The volunteer, from the south of France, is accused of kickstarting a series of wildfires in the Hérault region, near the city of Montpellier.

Earlier this month, Europe faced its most extreme heatwave to date, with temperatures reaching unprecedented highs of 105°F. Around 14,000 people were evacuated from France's Gironde region as more than 1,200 firefighters battled to bring the flames under control after a wildfire ravaged parts of Europe.

Now, officials are investigating whether the unnamed firefighter, dubbed "pyromaniac fireman", was responsible for last month's blaze.

The man has admitted kickstarting four infernos with a lighter, most recently, on July 26 and July 27.

If convicted, he faces up to 15 years in jail.

SHARON Stone is a year older than Madonna.

But when the Basic Instinct icon recently went tastefully topless in an Instagram post, it was a LOT sexier than the Queen of Pop's attempts to be seductive online.

Sharon looked gorgeous as she shared the snap with fans, revealing she is "gratefully imperfect".

Impromptu

The 64-year-old was enjoying time by the swimming pool when she decided on an impromptu photo shoot.

She rocked a green leopard print bikini and removed her top for the picture.

However, she kept things "decent" with a large towel draped over her shoulders to cover up her chest.

"Gratefully imperfect on a perfect day," she captioned the saucy snap.

The Hollywood actress looked up towards the sky and showed off her pearly whites for the camera.

Fans and friends loved the snap and immediately took to the comments section to compliment Shazza.

But she's not the only babe to sizzle by the poolside draped in only a towel.

Here are some more...

IT was a case of wrong time, wrong place, for Amber Matthews. The 23-year-old had no idea when she went to visit a friend who needed help looking after her children that laughing killer Wendell Grissom would choose that house at random...

THE SMILING ASSASSIN

PLEADING FOR MERCY: Amber Matthews was shot while holding her friend's baby

'I hate where I'm at... if I could give my own life to undo it, I would in a minute'

WENDELL Grissom never tried to deny his guilt.

He viciously slaughtered Amber Matthews, 23, and horrifically wounded her pal, Lauren Dreu Kopf, in a home invasion horror.

Lauren and her children – one of whom was just five weeks old at the time – somehow survived the ordeal.

They still live with the mental scars, though.

Yet sick Grissom has seen fit to pen a series of letters from his

By KOURTNEY KENNEDY
news@sundaysport.co.uk

cell on Death Row in Oklahoma, moaning about how unpleasant it is behind bars.

In one blog post on the website Minutes Before Six, he writes: "My cell is four cement walls and a ceiling. The only window I have is in the door and it looks out onto the hallway."

"We're supposed to receive one hour of recreation every day but there's no yard here. You can't see anything because of the 30ft cement walls and the only opening is at the very top which allows fresh air and, if the sun's out, a little sunlight.

"I've been here since 2008. The only times I leave it are for visits or medical appointments."

Former trucker and raging alcoholic Grissom says he realises he's "not at summer camp" but adds: "We're still human beings. People don't treat dogs the way we're treated here."

"The food is always cold and nasty. They butcher horses here in Oklahoma and the meat goes to the prison system."

Who's to blame for the crimes he committed? According to Grissom, it's all down to the faulty human genes he was unfortunate to receive.

He admits: "Yes, I did some horrible things."

Intoxicated

"And, even though I was intoxicated beyond any sense or reason, there's absolutely no excuse for it."

"But I didn't try to get away with what I did. Once I sobered up I felt so bad that I confessed to it all. The human race will never be perfect. It's in our genes to fail, be it in any manner."

"I hate where I'm at and I sincerely regret what I've done."

"If I could give my own life to undo it, I would in a minute. But the reality of it is, I can't."

The state of Oklahoma can, and will, take Grissom's life.

In the meantime, for the families of Amber and Lauren, no amount of repenting can ever undo his evil.

In truly excruciating courtroom testimony, Lauren revealed how Grissom had openly laughed in her face as she begged him not to enter her home.

Grissom shot Lauren twice, in the head and stomach, before leaving her for dead and then turning his attentions to Amber.

He chased Amber around a bedroom despite her screaming and pleading with him not to kill her.

Then he shot her twice in the head – once as she held Lauren's shrieking five-week-old daughter.

When Grissom was eventually handed his death sentence in March 2008, Judge David Lewis was in no doubt that it was an appropriate punishment.

He said: "Wendell Grissom attempted to murder the homeowner and, surely believing he had succeeded, he executed her friend with two shots to the head."

"He gave a detailed confession within hours of the shootings. He was able to recount the details of his recent activities and his life history leading up to the crimes."

"He also effectively admitted his guilt of murder at trial, hoping to avoid the extreme punishment."

Like many convicted killers, Arkansas native Grissom, now 53, had a poor start to life, plagued by injury, learning difficulties and sexual abuse.

Terese Hall, a forensic psychologist and professor at Oral Roberts University, revealed how Grissom had been sexually molested for several years, beginning when he was around nine, by an adult brother-in-law.

Hall said Grissom didn't tell anyone about the abuse at the time and remained reluctant to discuss it even as an adult, as he found it shameful and upsetting. Grissom's birth had been a difficult one and he had been starved of oxygen during the delivery.

It led to severe speech problems as a child, for which he underwent years of therapy and was teased at school.

Grissom was described as "very shy, withdrawn and awkward" as a child as well as "anxious, depressed and socially isolated."

A series of motorcycle accidents only made matters worse, leaving him with more learning difficulties and causing him to quit school at 16.

He drifted towards alcohol and marijuana between the ages of 17 and 19, and hard drugs soon followed.

By the time he was 20 he was burgling homes to pay for his substance abuse, spending years in jail because of it.

By 2002, Grissom had left prison and qualified as a commercial truck driver, following in the footsteps of his beloved father, Bobby.

It was at this point that Grissom also met and married his wife, Barbara.

Hell

But the pairing was a marriage made in hell. Their "disastrous and chaotic" relationship, which ended in 2004, was the source of yet further anguish and depression for Grissom.

By early November, 2005, he was once again looking for cash to score drugs and booze.

As he drove his truck along the highway, he picked up a hitchhiker, Jessie Johns, who ended up being implicated in Amber's murder.

Court records reveal: "The pair drove into rural Blaine County looking for a house to burglarise.

"Grissom ultimately parked his truck in the driveway of the residence of Matt and Lauren Kopf, near Hitchcock, in rural Blaine County. Grissom approached a sliding door at the rear of the residence and knocked. "Lauren was inside her home that morning with her best friend, Amber Matthews, and her two young children, 18-month-old Rylie and infant Gracie Jo.

"Rylie was in her crib in the bedroom and Lauren was holding Gracie Jo.

"Amber answered the sliding glass door as Lauren turned in her glider chair to speak with Grissom.

"He asked Lauren if her husband was home. When she replied that he was at work, Grissom told her he would come back later.

"Amber closed the door but, seconds later, Grissom reappeared.

"Lauren handed the

HOUSE OF HORROR: Home of Lauren Dreu Kopf

baby to Amber and went to the door again.

"Then Grissom shot a pistol round into the large glass pane and shattered it.

"He then stepped into the residence and fired a second shot at Lauren, striking her in the hand."

In her own testimony, Lauren described the sheer panic of the situation.

"She told the jury: "When he left, we only got a few words out before Amber said that man was at my back door again."

"Next thing, the patio door just shattered.

"I begged him to stop. I told him that I had kids, that he could have anything he wanted."

"He just laughed. I repeated myself and he laughed more."

Amber ran with the baby into Rylie's bedroom while Lauren fought with Grissom.

The court records add: "While Lauren was fighting with Grissom, she begged him to take what he wanted and leave. He just laughed at her as he pulled the black pistol from his waist and put it to her head.

Bullet

"She tried to grab at the weapon but he fired it. A bullet tore through her hand and struck the side of her head, fracturing her skull."

"Grissom stuck the pistol against her hip and fired again. The force of this shot threw Lauren on to the floor."

Thinking he'd killed Lauren, Grissom then turned his attention to Amber.

In heartbreaking testimony, Lauren said: "I heard Amber and my

SICK: Wendell Grissom (above as a young man and, below, in prison) was looking for money to feed his addiction to booze and drugs kids screaming.

"Amber shouted, 'Please don't shoot me', then I heard another gunshot."

Lauren, sick to the pit of her stomach knowing she was leaving her children in the house, somehow dragged herself to the garage.

Grissom's accomplice, Jessie Johns, made his way into the house as Lauren got into Grissom's own truck and drove off in a bid to summon help.

The court files state: "Not far from her house, Lauren flagged down a trio of truckers hauling rock and told them her friend and children were dead and she had been shot."

"One of the truckers, himself a retired police officer, got into the truck with Lauren."

"He reported the shooting by phone to the Kingfisher County Sheriff's Office and drove Lauren to the hospital in nearby Watonga."

Grissom and Johns fled the scene on a red quad bike, which soon ran out of petrol.

The pair were finally picked up by police drinking beer hidden in undergrowth near a local cafe.

Amber, meanwhile, was still clinging to life when police got to the property.

She tragically died during the emergency flight to an Oklahoma City hospital.

At his trial, Bobbie and Mary Grissom begged with the court to spare their son's life.

His lawyers made him out to be "a very sick, lost man" who was "extremely depressed."

But their pleas fell on deaf ears and Grissom now awaits his lethal injection.

Court upholds death sentence for serial killer... DIE, YOU BASTARD!

STILL ON DEATH ROW: Evil Ng

A COURT has upheld the death sentence of one of the world's most notorious serial killers, who kidnapped and sexually tortured his victims while filming them in a remote cabin.

Charles Chitang Ng, 61, was convicted of murdering 11 people in a kidnapping spree from 1984-85 that terrorised California.

But authorities have said he and his cohort, Leonard Lake, may be responsible for more killings based on human remains found at a cabin Lake owned.

Lake, described as being a survivalist who had feared a nuclear holocaust, committed suicide by eating cyanide pills shortly after his arrest on a gun charge in 1985.

Ng fled to Canada but was held for shoplifting, then returned to the US in 1991 after a lengthy extradition process.

A jury in Orange County returned a death sentence against him in 1999 after eight years of legal wrangling that included a judge granting his request to represent himself, then revoking it after repeated interruptions.

A unanimous opinion by the California Supreme Court affirms that sentence.

Ng's end-of-the-line effort to persuade the state's highest court to vacate his death sentence focused a jail informant's testimony about sadistic cartoons Ng drew of his crimes, Ng's conflicts with his counsel, and the requirement that he wear an electric belt while in the courtroom.

IN THE 80s: Charles Ng and (below) his cohort Leonard Lake

Ng was represented in the appeal by Eric S. Multhaup, an attorney in Mill Valley, California.

Part of Multhaup's appeal argued that physically restraining Ng in trial violated his right to due process, but Supreme Court justices said they were necessary and detailed the litigation surrounding them, which included an argument that Ng's stun belt was "causing him some pretty grave discomfort" and "cutting into his waist."

Prosecutors said the belt was because of the risk Ng might try to escape.

Nearly 25 years later, the Supreme Court ruling endorses that view.

Ng remains on Death Row at California's San Quentin State Prison.

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

Fantastic. Now it's time for the REAL football

ETCHED IN FOREVER: Chloe Kelly and the Lionesses

YOU know that you're doing something right when you piss off the German newspapers.

On Monday morning this week, they went MAD.

And after England had nipped past Germany to take gold in the women's Euros, it was understandable.

Because if the result was the other way around, we would all be doing the same.

Of course, every single one of our 958 telly channels was banging on about the win all day.

And the radio waves were buzzing with the phrases "ground-breaking" and "game changers".

Wall-to-wall front pages were assured.

Hastily put-together souvenir magazines will soon appear on supermarket shelves.

And the team is surely a shoo-in for the BBC Sports Television Personality of the Year... if they can prise the trophy out of Gary Lineker's hands.

But is it too late for a word of caution?

Too late to say: "Whoa! Hold on, hold your horses a minute!"

Just 24 hours before the final on Sunday, another match took place - Liverpool vs Manchester City in the unofficial season-opening Community Shield.

Full-throated

The two Premier League teams strutted out at the King Power Stadium in Leicester, not for what is usually considered a friendly, but for a near full-throated 12 rounds of uppercuts.

No-one is normally arsed who wins the shield, frankly.

But this one was a way of whetting the appetite of footie fans for what's coming at the weekend - the return of, let's face it, PROPER football.

Footie where the ball can be passed along or over the perfectly cut grass, over many yards, right to a teammate's feet.

Where God only knows how many miles were run by the warriors on the pitch.

Where bragging rights even for the lowly shield are such a worthy commodity when it comes to the rivalry between these two gifted teams.

Liverpool won - always nice to add to the trophy shelf - but that wasn't what mattered most.

What really mattered is that fans like me were reminded once more, as if we even needed it, of the joys of watching the beautiful game.

Then, a day later, we saw the difference between the men and the women.

Passes in the latter tended to land at the feet of the opposing team, especially in the second half.

And we can talk about tired legs and all that, but that didn't excuse passes that bumbled along the pitch like a drunken bee before stopping stock still after almost travelling a full 12ft or so.

But the goals were great, and the Lionesses triumphed brilliantly, and we should most definitely applaud them for their success and endeavour.

They deserve all the accolades they will have bestowed upon them, and their place in history is etched in forever.

And it's certainly a rather large one in the eye for woke-ish Gareth Southgate and his underperforming, bizarrely socially-conscious England men's team.

Wembley was a sell-out at nearly 90,000, more than 23.3 million of us watched the Lionesses win at home, and we're going to savour it all for - at the very least - the next three days.

Because let's not kid ourselves, that's when the real footie is finally back again.

And everything else will swiftly be forgotten.

'I dream that I've got a job as a sexy lap dancer'

#MY SEX FANTASY

...WITH
STELLA JONES,
34DD, FROM BRIGHTON

I HAVE a thing for role playing as a prostitute.

I love to dress up in really out-there, glamorous and sexy clothes, paired with luxurious lacy underwear.

Think Julia Roberts in Pretty Woman, or Billie Piper in Secret Diary of a Call Girl.

When I'm playing with myself I often fantasise that I've got a job as a lap dancer and while I'm performing a sexy dance my customer hands me £200 and requests that I perform the lap dance... minus his pants.

We're not allowed to cross over that line at the club so after it closes we drive off in his flashy car.

Suck

We find a quiet, dark place under a bridge and he asks me for a 'suck and f*ck'.

I love being used and I come while riding him. He then pays me my fee and I go on my way.

I would love to meet my boyfriend in a hotel bar and for us to pretend to be complete strangers and for him to pick me up for sex.

Then we'd go to a room and have anything-goes rumpy pump.

Obviously, the reality of being a prostitute must be grim for most, but as a fantasy it's super hot.

Faulty plane crash-lands minus a pilot

MYSTERY surrounds a small plane that made an emergency landing with only ONE of its two pilots on board.

One either jumped or fell to his death while the plane was trying to land safely after losing its right wheel.

Police are trying to piece together why Charles Hew Crooks, 23 (above), was not in the cockpit when the plane hit the runway at Raleigh Durham International Airport in North Carolina.

His body was found in the back garden of a home about 30 miles south of the airport in Fuquay-Varina.

Mr Crooks did not have a parachute on, and authorities believe his body fell 3,500ft.

Authorities are also unsure if he died before the fall.

His co-pilot, whose name has not been released, was taken to hospital after sustaining minor injuries and released later that day.

The 10-seater plane, was badly damaged.

Driven away by naked burglar

A HOMEOWNER was forced to leave her house and stay with friends after a NAKED burglar broke into her home TWICE in four days.

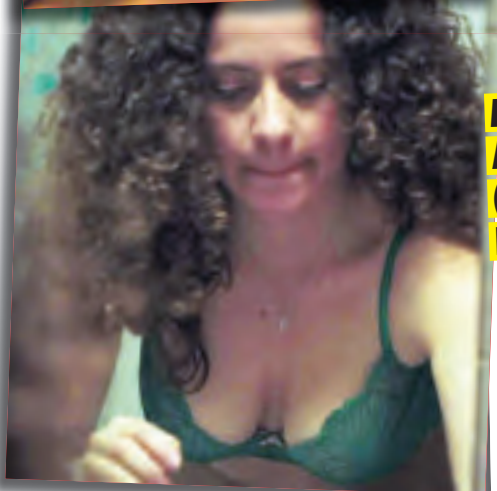

In doorbell camera footage, the suspect was seen smashing a back window and entering the woman's property.

The victim, America Barrera, said: "He took my shotgun, and he took some clothes. He was here a while. He had the TV on, he drank a beer here, and he left a knife on my bed."

Two days later, the man – thought to be homeless – returned, but this time she was out.

However, America said she was forced to run away and call local cops in Houston, Texas, for help while the burglar stole clothes and underwear.

HERE IS THE NUDES...

AS one Aussie telly series bows out, another roars in to quickly take its place.

But new show The Newsreader is not like Neighbours.

It tells the story of Helen, played by Anna Torv, who is a 1980s news anchor for a Down Under channel, with big, swept-up hair and huge shoulder pads.

MARIA ANGELICO (CHERYL RICCI)

The Newsreader - BBC2, Sundays, 9pm

ANNA TORV (HELEN NORVILLE)

And it just so happens that we have snaps of both Anna and Maria in the nuddy from some previous roles!

Nostalgia

Like Stranger Things on Netflix, new show The Newsreader is great Eighties nostalgia until you realise that the 1980s is now a subject for nostalgia.

And that may make some viewers feel old.

As well as being shown in BBC2, all the episodes are available on BBC iPlayer.

By SUZIE SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

While it uses actual events as its storyline hooks – Chernobyl, Halley's Comet, the early days of Aids – and riffs on the pretty dark cynicism of news reporting, the real themes of things like love, triumph, despair and disappointment are timeless.

The show also stars Maria Angelico as makeup artist Cheryl Ricci.

BIG GAME HUNTER SHOT WIFE ON A SAFARI TRIP

Now dentist faces the death penalty

A MULTIMILLIONAIRE dentist faces the death penalty after he was found guilty of the murder of his wife on an African safari trip.

A jury found Lawrence Rudolph, 67, guilty of gunning down his wife of 34 years, Bianca, following a trial.

He was also convicted of fraud for cashing in £4million in life insurance payments following his wife's death in October 2016, which he claimed was accidental and self-inflicted.

Jurors sided with prosecutors who said

Rudolph killed his wife in cold blood as part of a premeditated plan to take the life insurance payouts and start a new life with his mistress of 20 years.

They said Rudolph shot his wife while on a hunting trip in Zambia and was overheard years later shouting: "I killed my fking wife for you!" during a row with the other woman, Lori Milliron.

The wealthy dentist maintained his innocence during the trial and claimed Bianca had accidentally shot herself in the chest while she packed away a shotgun and when he was in the toilet. He said his wife had been packing her bags in a hurry as she was in a rush to get home from the trip.

But prosecutors said her gun wound couldn't have been self-inflicted and presented evidence that showed the shot to her heart had been fired from a few feet away.

Rudolph faces life in jail or the death penalty.

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Lexi,

I RECENTLY moved to a new house and my neighbour, a tasty sort in her late 30s, soon introduced herself. She invited me to a quiz night at the local boozer with her and two mates. They were also late 30s, blonde and sexy. It soon became clear that they were not interested in the quiz – they wanted me. I invited them back and they took turns to suck me off. I shagged all three before they got down to some lebo fun. It was great to watch them sucking each other's tits and clits. To finish, my neighbour stuck a dildo up my arse while I took one of her mates from behind as she licked her pal out. We don't go to the quiz nights now, they just come to my place and we fk. I'm so glad I moved and several of my mates are now looking for houses here.

FF, Essex

Lexi says...
I BET they are!

Dear Lexi,

I'M a 23-year-old blonde and I thought I had met the man of my dreams a few weeks ago. He's a real hunk in his late 20s, with a great physique from his regular workouts at the gym. But I found out that not only does he still live at home with his mum, but he's a trainspotter! Anyway, I managed to persuade him to stay over at my place, where I discovered he has a penis to match the rest of his great body. It's a good, solid nine inches but the problem is that he's not got much idea how to make the best use of it. I've given him a few pointers, but when it comes to getting his long loco into my love shed he's a bit clumsy and arrives too soon. Should I blow the whistle on our relationship?

JB, Cumbria

Lexi says...
KEEP steaming ahead until he's onn the right track.

Bonking missus and busty Aussie nanny is exhausting!

Dear Lexi,

MY wife and I both work full-time for lucrative businesses and took on a nanny to help at home a few months ago.

She's a busty Australian and it wasn't long before we started shagging.

I was off work one day and saw her stood in front of the mirror in her room starkers.

She beckoned me in and we were immediately kissing and groping each other, as she ripped my clothes off.

I lay her on the bed and licked her pussy, then she got down on her knees and sucked me off.

We had the most amazing sex and have been doing so for a few weeks now.

My wife is no slouch in bed, but she's a hard worker and is often too tired for a bit of hanky panky when she gets home.

She doesn't suspect a thing, but the hired help keeps playing footsie with me under the table at shared meal times, leaving me feeling really horny.

I'm infatuated with her and I've been taking a lot of time off work – just to bonk her.

I've also been having sex with my wife in between, to keep her happy, but it's exhausting.

I'm worried I'll lose them both – and my job – as I keep dozing at my desk.

What should I do?

LD, Wiltshire

Lexi says...

EMPLOY a nanny who looks more like Mary Poppins, then you won't be tempted to shag her.

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week LEXI LOWE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Massage parlour girl's sensational bum deal

Dear Lexi,

I'M a 23-year-old builder and I have been working with the same gang for three years.

Recently, we were sent to work on a big job on a site in Birmingham and every night turned into party night at a local massage parlour.

One night I hooked up with a lovely Chinese babe whose speciality was taking it up the arse.

It's always been a big turn-on for me to back-scuttle the ladies because, I have to confess, I'm a bit on the small side in the dick department and a bum-hole is nice and tight.

Plunged

Needless to say, I had a whale of a time with this Chinese chick.

She told me that to get maximum pleasure she must first insert a strange sex toy up her fanny.

She put on a bit of a show for me, fondling her tits and slipping the toy in and out of her juicy hole.

Then she got on the bed and waved her cute little arse in my face.

My cock was rock-hard and I couldn't wait any longer, so I plunged into her. Once inside her I could feel the whirring sex toy in her ct pressing against my prick.

She must have been feeling something good too because she went off like a rocket, screaming as I spunked up her.

It was an amazing experience and I collapsed on the bed feeling totally elated.

I showered down and thought that would be the end of it and I would go back to my mates to share my great time with them.

But she told me not to leave just yet because she had one more surprise in store for me.

Then she worked my knob back to stiffness and gave me a fantastic blowjob, which she said was to say "thank you for such a good arse-fking".

I was completely blown away and I couldn't get her out of my mind, so I arranged to meet her out of work.

I asked her to marry me, but she says she has to pay off debts of £10,000 first. Do you think I should do it?

HW, Liverpool

Lexi says...

NO. Because you'll end up being the sucker.

Dear Lexi,

MY divorced mum is always trying to get off with my male pals aged 19 and 20.

Last week she was in the back garden sunbathing topless and her nips were rock-hard. Everyone could see them!

What can I do to make her grow up?

KF, Suffolk

Lexi says...

YOUR mum is a woman and has her needs.

Dear Lexi,

THE mechanic at my local garage is a dark, muscular hunk.

I see him around the local pubs quite a bit and I've fancied him for quite some time.

I couldn't help but notice him the other afternoon as he was bent under a bonnet fixing a car engine.

He had his shirt off and it got me thinking how to come up with a cunning plan to bed him.

I'm no mechanical genius, but I thought that if I pulled a few wires out under the bonnet of my car I'd stop the motor.

It worked and I rang for help, claiming the car had been sabotaged.

He rolled up and took it away on a trailer to his garage.

When I went in to the garage the next day, he handed me my keys and a bill for a £100.

The good news is that I asked him to take me out for a test drive and we ended up having a great shag in a lay-by.

Then the bombshell. I was thinking this could be the start of something special, but he said he had a girlfriend.

Now I feel a right idiot.

LP, east Midlands

Lexi says...

IT'S a costly mistake. But don't complain, at least you had a great shag!

Boozy night led to threesome thriller

Dear Lexi,

I SHAGGED my bird and her fit mate a couple of nights ago. This was the first threesome I've ever had and I have to say that it was brilliant.

I'd fantasised about being in bed with two women from being in my late teens.

And it was fuelled by watching porn films, where two stunnas hungrily take it in turns to slobber all over some lucky guy's knob.

Me, my missus and her mate had been down the pub to celebrate a win we'd had on the horses.

We had a cracking time, trying out different sorts of fancy and expensive drinks and we were absolutely leathered when we got back to my flat.

My bird and her pal, who are both blondes, then suddenly started kissing each other, so I got my cock out and they got on their knees and started licking it.

Tight

I then did my bird from behind while her mate licked and played with my balls.

Then I did her pal. It was amazing – her fanny was tight and I couldn't help myself and after five minutes I shot my load over her boobs.

I shagged them three times each and watched as they licked each other out before we all collapsed exhausted on the carpet.

I'd love another go, but my bird now says the whole thing was a mistake and will never happen again.

What should I do?

PV, west Yorkshire

Lexi says...

GET them pissed again!

NY

KINKY Keira Moon revealed she took her fella to a STRIP CLUB on his birthday.

The glamour babe admitted she also enjoys "having a perv" at hot dancers.

The 36D model explained that a night getting lap dances as a couple really gets them both in the mood for sex, too.

Keira, from Tower Hamlets in east London, said: "I absolutely love watching a really fit girl doing her thing on a pole."

"It's so elegant and really an art form."

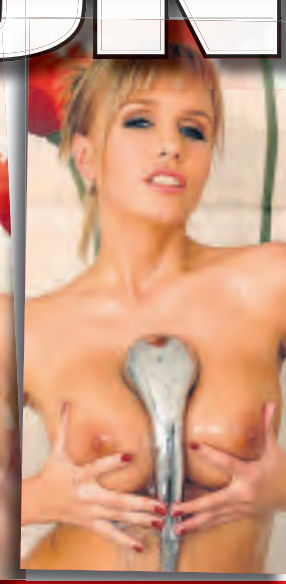

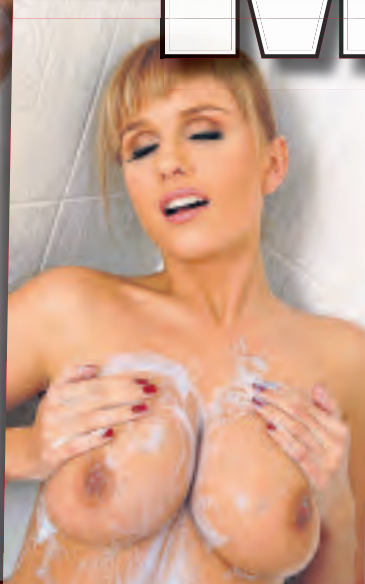

"It's a turn-on, too, when they start to take their clothes off and - if I'm honest - I go in with my man as an excuse!"

"Curvy waists, big boobs, peachy bums, G-strings, toned thighs... I love it all!"

SPECIAL OFFER: ANY 3 PRIVATE SHOPS DVDS FOR £25 (was £75)

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Downton Abbey this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Small and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of noshing as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDs at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabhem, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smathers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

The image shows a close-up of a woman's face, specifically her eye and blonde hair, in the background. Overlaid on this is a large, stylized logo. The word "TELEVISION" is written in white, bold, sans-serif capital letters with a black outline, slanted upwards from left to right. To the right of "TELEVISION" is a large, red, stylized letter "X" with a thick black outline. To the right of the "X" is the text "HD" in yellow, bold, sans-serif capital letters with a black outline. The entire logo is positioned diagonally across the upper right portion of the image.

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

WELCOME to the interactive Midweek Sport - where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see - TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you are clamouring for. This service

- UNIQUE to British newspapers - is totally FREE!

All you have to do is drop us an email to request @sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest.

MIA MALKOVA

PROUD south Londoner Rob Owens wanted a sexy photo of Mia Malkova to prove to his pals the fittest girls are south of the river.

Rob, 26, from Merton, works in a call centre and says all his mates rate north London babes.

But Rob says 34C Mia, from Richmond, is easily the best

He said: "I need to settle an office debate so please can you print a topless photo of Mia in the paper."

"I'll win this hands down!"

AMANDA DORKING

FOOTBALL coach David Hicks asked for a photo of Colchester cutie Amanda Dorking so he can give his players a pre-season pick-me-up. David, 53, coaches a Sunday league team in the Surrey and said a saucy shot of Amanda will give his team a boost.

He said: "The lads are Colchester United fans and they've been a bit down after this season's form in Division Two."

"I promised them I'd show them something from Essex that was still top quality - a pic of 32D Amanda in the dressing room for the new season will be a good luck omen!"

LOUISE PAYNE

TREE surgeon Martin Quinn chops down huge oaks for a living – but it's glamour legend Louise Payne who always gives him a serious case of wood.

Martin, 56, from Guildford, only has eyes for the Basildon model and wanted a snap of her 32Es.

He said: "Lousie is a real beauty and I've never seen a more perfect pair of knockers – she's a proper stunna."

"If you could print a photo in the Midweek Sport of her boobs, it would be really appreciated by the lads at work!"

WHO hasn't wanted to stick it into a horny student babe? Some of you may have managed it, some of you lucky buggers might be getting it wet in one right now but, for most of us, it remains a fantasy!

Well, those good people at Killergram Studios are here to save the day!

College Babes Exposed 4 is a collection of some of the hottest UK porn babes in tight, ass-clinging jeans. These super-hot, sexy babes are eager to please as they work through the total "Killergram Hardcore Syllabus" just like a true teen-c*msl't should!

Like a lot of undergrad girls they're hungover, hungry and on the lookout for a length of hard c and a hot meal to fulfill their needs before they stagger off to lectures.

Real-life, realistic hardcore for all you fans of swotty sluts!

MALJOOM

The Covex Kid to strike again

THE COVEX KID is having a fantastic debut season for Amy Murphy and can add to his tally in the Carlsberg Danish Pilsner Brighton Mile.

The Mehmas gelding showed precious little in three juvenile starts for Paul Midgley last season, but that did at least allow him to enter the handicap arena from a lowly perch for his new connections.

The Covex Kid won off a mark of 46 on his return at Lingfield and in the space of a couple of weeks completed a hat-trick as he added further victories at Beverley and Catterick to his CV.

Charge

June defeats at Lingfield and Newbury suggested the handicapper may have finally caught up with him, albeit he was not beaten far on either occasion from his revised mark of 65.

But Murphy's charge dispelled that notion when bolting up off 67 over this course and distance three weeks ago on what was just his second start over a mile.

The three-year-old is now rated 75, which is clearly a hefty hike from where he started off his campaign, but he remains open to further progress at this trip and looks sure to go close once more.

Desert Team looks capable of giving weight and a beating to her rivals in the opening StarProperty Group Handicap at the seaside venue.

Runner-up on her sole start as a two-year-old, the Invincible Spirit filly has built on that promise by winning three of her three of her six outings in 2022.

She looked all speed when dominating from the front on her latest outing at Newmarket over five furlongs, so fast ground over five and a half at Brighton should suit.

Apprentice Harry Burns, who has been on board for her last two victories, keeps the partnership intact and a 3lb rise for her latest triumph does not look insurmountable.

The Jedd O'Keeffe-trained Kincade can notch a deserved victory in the tiesplanet.com - Ladies Love Guys In Ties Handicap at Pontefract.

The three-year-old is one of two leading contenders in a six-strong field for the Leyburn handler along with recent Chester winner Nikhi, who undoubtedly merits respect.

But Kincade carries 6lb less than his stablemate and in being placed at Southwell, Ripon at Sandown this season, has looked ready for this step up to two miles. With Hollie Doyle a positive jockey booking, he can open his account in West Yorkshire.

Border Edge is one of the potential class acts on show at Kempton.

Down the field behind the top-class Maljoom on his Doncaster debut, Charlie Appleby's youngster raised his game to absolutely trounce his rivals on his second start at Nottingham.

That form looks sound with the runner-up, Counsel, winning since to solidify a mark in the early 80s.

Ability

Border Edge should be capable of defying a penalty in the first division of the Unibet Horserace Betting Operator Of The Year Novice Stakes before stepping up in grade.

Qoya catches the eye in the Download The At The Races App Fillies' Handicap at Newcastle.

While not one of the brighter lights in William Haggas' powerful stable, the daughter of Almanzor has hinted at ability in each of her four starts.

She looked a little one paced on her handicap debut at Windsor recently, but is up slightly in trip in the north east and it will be interesting to see if the application of a tongue-tie makes a difference.

WE'VE GOT ALL THE BIG SPORTS STORIES COVERED

It is not women's footy, it's just footy!

STANWAY SAYS LIONESSES HAVE CHANGED THE SPORT FOREVER

GEORGIA Stanway believes it is time to "stop talking about how big women's football is getting and talk about how big it is".

The Euro 2022 final was played out in front of a record 87,000 crowd at Wembley as the Lionesses beat Germany 2-1 to lift the trophy.

BBC One coverage of the dramatic match drew more than 24 million live on BBC One and online as Lionesses fever swept the nation.

Those are amazing numbers for any sporting event.

Midfielder Stanway said when asked about the watching masses: "It's a good job I can't see any of them, watching the screen or in the stands! My eyes are on the ball."

"But I think that's where we're at now. I think we need to kind of stop talking about how big women's football is getting and talk about how big it is. We're just hitting new levels every single time."

She added: "I feel like if we can inspire one person, we've done our job – whereas here we've got thousands."

"The amount of kids that were at the game on Sunday was massive, the amount of people wearing England shirts – and it's not necessarily male players' names on the back anymore, it's female players."

"And I think that's the step we're taking, that it's not women's and men's football, it's just football in general."

"We're here to inspire, but we were also here to get a job done – and for us to get that job done helps the future."

Stanway says she has felt a massive change in the way the women's game has moved on in just a few weeks. The men's team has been getting involved too.

And Stanway said: "Quite a lot of the England men got in touch with us."

"Some of them were just wishing us well but others were asking if they can have a ticket to go to the final –

'sorry, lads, they were all sold out!'

"They were at us, just giving us all the information they can...and just making sure that maybe we can do one better."

Stanway was also asked about the likes of David

Beckham and Lewis Hamilton posting supportive messages on social media, and said: "When you're playing you don't realise who's watching."

"It's only afterwards when you're going on social media and you've got massive names saying they're enjoying the game or 'good goal, good tackle'...you realise how big it is."

"I think even when you look at the royal family, they're saying they're watching every game, I think it's mad."

"You forget everyone has a TV and everyone is not doing something on that evening. I think it's weird that people are actually finding the time to just set out and be like 'right, Lionesses are on tonight, get everyone round the TV'."

"I think that's so important. Last year we brought the nation together with the men and I feel like we are just doing exactly the same now."

NEW DEAL: Farrell

Boss Farrell commits to Ireland job

RUGBY UNION

ENGLAND have been thwarted in their plans to make Andy Farrell their next national coach.

The former Red Rose player has signed a two-year contract extension to stay as Ireland head coach until 2025.

Irish chiefs have moved to tie down Farrell beyond the 2023 World Cup, with the former dual-code international's stock having shot up after the summer's historic Test series win in New Zealand.

English supremo Bill Sweeney only last week admitted Farrell remains "very highly regarded" at the Rugby Football Union, with the search under way for Eddie Jones' successor.

But now the Irish Rugby Football Union (IRFU) has moved swiftly to shut down any talk of Farrell returning to England by extending the 47-year-old's contract.

Performance director David Nucifora admitted the IRFU was aware that Farrell would be in demand elsewhere in hailing the Ireland boss' extended terms.

"Andy is one of the outstanding coaches in world rugby and his work in leading the transition within the national team since the 2019 Rugby World Cup has been exceptional," said Nucifora.

Tavares off to Marseille

ARSENAL left-back Nuno Tavares has joined Marseille on a season-long loan.

The 22-year-old Portuguese made 28 appearances in all competitions last season after joining the Gunners from Benfica in the summer of 2021.

He scored once, in a 3-1 win over Manchester United at the Emirates Stadium in April.

Opportunities may have been more limited this season with Kieran Tierney manager Mikel Arteta's first-choice left-back and Oleksandr Zinchenko, having recently joined the club.

GET MAD TO GET EVEN

Klopp hopes Shield win is just the start

JURGEN Klopp is hoping to channel his side's anger and fighting spirit to ensure Liverpool go one better in the Premier League or Champions League this season.

The Reds narrowly missed out on the two biggest prizes last term, losing the title by a point to Manchester City and going down 1-0 to Real Madrid in the Champions League final.

Their new campaign began on Saturday as the Reds were convincing 3-1 winners against City in the Community Shield at Leicester.

By ANDY MILLOM

Klopp hopes that can be a springboard to success – and they will be spurred on by going so close to a Quadruple last season.

The German said: "We know each other and we know what we expect from each other. We had a big meeting where I told the boys what I expect from them next year."

"I want to use the togetherness we have, the atmosphere we have in the team, the experience we made for better."

"We can grow closer together, we can be clearer in the things we do. The things we do are good but can we do it better? Yes."

"Will that always lead to a better result? That is not possible because we won a lot of games but, performance-wise, we can definitely improve and that is what we try."

"We want to create a resilience and a fighting spirit. Being angry is important to fight against the outside world in this specific moment. All these things we can do."

"We don't know where it will lead us but we know it will improve us, based on the things we know are important when we bring them on the pitch."

Liverpool still enjoyed a superb 2021-22 campaign, capturing the FA Cup and Carabao Cup, but Klopp knows his team will need to evolve to stay at the top end.

He said: "We want to be the team no one wants to play against because they have pressure from everywhere when they have the ball and because of what we do when we have the ball."

"But we have to have more consistency when we have the ball."

Running

"We have to create new ways, we have to help the boys with positioning – not invent ourselves new, that is not necessary, but include new things here and there. That is what we were really working on."

New signing Darwin Nunez hit the ground running after coming on a sub to win a penalty and score the third goal at the King Power.

But Klopp expects it to take time and a few games for the style of play to develop.

In this regard he feels Liverpool will be similar to City, who are reshaping their attack around new recruit Erling Haaland – who had a debut to forget with a huge miss in the closing minutes.

Klopp said: "They have same problem we have. They are not used to Erling's natural runs, just as we are not used to Darwin's natural runs yet."

"Most of the things look like last year, how they set up the press, how flexible they are in their own possession. It is good – very, very good – but so far no real change is obvious."

WAKEY COACH UP FOR A FIGHT

WAKEFIELD coach Willie Poching is backing his players to beat the drop.

A surprise 32-6 weekend win over Castleford has enhanced the strugglers' chances.

Winger Lewis Murphy scored two of Trinity's five tries, including a brilliant 80-metre effort, and others came from forwards Liam Hood, Matty Ashurst and David Fifita.

Trinity took advantage of Toulouse's 30-6 home defeat by Hull to lift themselves off the bottom of the Betfred Super League.

Poching, whose side were beaten in agonising fashion by champions St Helens five days earlier, said he heard the result from Toulouse just before kick-off.

"Whether that was a boost I'm not too sure but it's a pretty good night for us overall," Poching said.

"But the fight is still on, there's a long road ahead and the challenge for us, as it was last week, is to go and do that again."

Poching's men not only halted a five-match losing run but ended a wait of 2,728 days for a derby victory over Castleford.

"It's special, I suppose," said the coach. "I understand what it means to the people who pay their money to follow this team every week and have done for years."

"Some of the players and members of the board have endured those 2,000-odd days and it's been tough."

"But we can sit back and enjoy it. It was a very good performance."

"I was proud of the players last week and I'm even prouder this week, especially with a short turnaround. I asked them for the same effort and they found it in them."

"The implementation of the game plan, the kick-chases, was outstanding."

Castleford, who had won four of their previous five matches, had the chance to move to within a point of fourth-placed Huddersfield but their poor performance casts fresh doubt over their play-off credentials.

Tigers coach Lee Radford said: "It was a well-deserved victory by a team prepared to out-derby their opposition and it kills me to say that."

"It was their desperation against our ambition. It was a culmination of a lot of tired blokes who weren't prepared to put in early."

"We looked tired from the off. The acid test in a rugby league game is the opening exchanges and we failed miserably in that department."

TALL ORDER: Martinez

Martinez measures up to Utd challenge

MANCHESTER United new boy Lisandro Martinez is the shortest centre-back in the Premier League after joining from Ajax.

The Argie international stands at 5ft 9in (1.75m) – a clear inch shorter than any other regular centre-back in the top flight.

The closest comparison is a converted full-back, Chelsea's 5ft 10in (1.78m) Cesar Azpilicueta, who has frequently played on the right of a back three in recent seasons with Reece James outside him as a wing-back.

Aaron Cresswell, shorter than Martinez at 5ft 7in (1.70m), was occasionally pressed into service at centre-back for West Ham last season.

Even including Cresswell, only 13 Premier League centre-backs are listed at under six feet tall.

'FIGHTING SPIRIT'

Martinez may be undersized but his manager is confident his skills will translate from Ajax to the Premier.

Erik ten Hag also worked with Martinez in the Eredivisie and said: "He's a warrior and I think the fans will admire him."

"He has an attitude, fighting spirit. He brings aggressiveness in the game, in a good way."

Statistics for last season's Eredivisie show Martinez won around 70 per cent of his aerial duels, so he held his own even when coming up against taller opponents.

There is precedent for players of similar stature enjoying success at centre-back – notably one of Martinez's compatriots, even if Javier Mascherano's positional switch came after he left the Premier League.

Signed by West Ham in 2007 as a holding midfielder and thriving in that role for Liverpool, Mascherano – slightly shorter than Martinez at 1.74m – moved on to Barcelona in 2010 and transitioned into defence as he helped them win five LaLiga titles and a pair of Champions Leagues.

Former Italy international Fabio Cannavaro is just a fraction taller than Martinez at 1.76m and is widely regarded as one of the modern greats at centre-back, so there is no reason Martinez's lack of inches alone would prevent him making a positive impact.

MAN UNITED STOPPER TRYING

VARANE ON A MISSION

Defender vows to show true form after his false start at Old Trafford

RAPHAEL Varane has no regrets about joining Man United, despite a difficult first season at Old Trafford.

By PAUL THOMAS

And he is determined to show his true form in a red shirt this season.

Varane enjoyed an unforgettable welcome at a packed Old Trafford before a convincing victory against rivals Leeds and the return of former Real team-mate Cristiano Ronaldo added expectation.

But things soon went awry for United. Poor results led to the sacking of Ole Gunnar Solskjaer and interim replacement Ralf Rangnick only managed to lead the side to sixth, while injuries restricted the defender to just 20 league starts.

"It was not the best season, the best results," Varane said.

"Obviously I wanted to play a little bit more but that's part of football and we're looking forward for the next season.

"I think the confidence was something important and we lost the confidence when we lost some games."

"I think a lot of things we could do better and obviously we want to improve for the next season. I think we need consistency and we need to build this confidence."

Last season was a far cry from the successes enjoyed by Varane at Real Madrid, who won the LaLiga and Champions League as the World Cup winner turned out for toiling United.

Asked if his former team's success made him think he made the wrong decision moving, the four-time European champ said: "Absolutely not."

"I think in football you have to challenge yourself and you have to try to improve and I wanted to live another experience after 10 years in the same place – so, no."

"I think the Premier League is absolutely fantastic and Manchester United are a great club, so there was no doubt about my decision."

Varane's emotions seem to contrast with frustrated Ronaldo, who has had to be persuaded to stay at Old Trafford for another season.

Improve

"Of course we want to improve," Varane said. "Cristiano is a great competitor, he's a legend. Obviously it's very good to play with him and he always helps the team."

"He's a great player and we all want the best players in the team. We will try to improve next season."

Ronaldo scored 24 goals in all competitions in his first campaign back at United and was crowned Sir

Matt Busby Player of the Year, but it was not enough to bring cup success or Champions League qualification.

Some have suggested the veteran's style meant he was a hindrance rather than a help but Varane dismissed such talk.

"We appreciate him as a player and as a person," he said. "I think this debate was outside of the dressing room."

"We know his quality. And we know he's very famous, so we know a lot of people will speak about the performance of the team and his performance."

Playing for United brings additional scrutiny and pressure, which captain Harry Maguire knows all about.

Erik ten Hag confirmed Maguire would retain the armband this season and the defender was booed by fans before pre-season matches in

TO BUILD FROM THE BACK

IFFY START: Varane didn't look a world beater last season

Australia. "I think he's a very important player for us," Varane said. "He's the captain and he has a lot of great qualities. Obviously we support him and he's part of the team and very important for us."

Varane and Maguire were the first-choice centre-back pairing when fit last season but that dynamic could change now Lisandro Martinez has arrived from Ajax.

Pressure

"I think the competition is very good for the team," Varane said. "We'll all be better with this competition. It's good for the team, so every great club is like this. So this is normal."

"I think we have to be ready for this pressure. If everyone wants to fight for the team, that's great news." It is a fresh chapter for all connected to United as new manager

Ten Hag looks to improve the fortunes of the 20-time champions. "A new season, a new start," said Varane. "We're looking forward... new manager and new ideas, new style, so everything is different."

"I think we have a great potential in this team. I think we're already improving and we can do better. And we'll keep pushing to fight for the title."

"We are working a lot. Ten Hag is very positive, he wants this energy and to press high up the pitch... to keep pushing and be proactive for 90 minutes, so we know exactly what we have to do and we need to work hard."

"We try to play with the defence and we try to defend very high on the pitch, so with more space on our back."

"I think it's a football that is maybe more offensive. But this football we really enjoy, so that's a good start."

JON IS MY NUMBER 1

RANGERS boss Giovanni van Bronckhorst says Jon McLaughlin is his number one goalkeeper for the season – but it wasn't an easy choice.

The Ibrox chief has Allan McGregor and Robby McCrorie at the club too and they are both well up to Premiership standard.

All three have enjoyed gametime during pre-season without doing anything to harm their chances of a regular start.

But the shirt is McLaughlin's to lose. Van Bronckhorst said: "It was a very tough call.

"Jon started the Scottish Cup Final last season and we've mixed it up in pre-season between who starts

"The squad is very big at the moment and we had to choose who starts and we've started with Jon."

RON THE BENCH

CR7 not main man at United this year

CRISTIANO Ronaldo will NOT be the main man at Manchester United this season.

Manager Erik Ten Hag is looking to other big names in the squad to step up.

season and scored a decent 24 goals in 39 outings for the Red Devils.

But United finished with their lowest ever points total in the Premier League era.

Their sixth-place finish was their second lowest and they were a whopping 35 points behind champions and noisy neighbours City.

There have been loud noises that Ronaldo wants to leave the club for one in the Champions League.

After talks that reportedly included Sir Alex Ferguson, the 37-year-old is set to stay.

But Ten Hag is putting more focus on the likes of Marcus Rashford and Anthony Martial as he looks to make his side more balanced.

He also wants Donny van de Beek to show his true quality this term.

The boss said: "Donny has the capability. I have seen it but he has to prove himself. It's the same for every player, he has to do it by himself."
